

Kristy L. Archuleta, Ph.D., LMFT, is an Associate Professor in the Personal Financial Planning program in the School of Family Studies and Human Services at Kansas State University and a practicing Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist at Andrews & Associates in Manhattan, KS. Dr. Archuleta teaches personal finance, financial counseling, and financial therapy courses in the undergraduate and doctoral degree programs. Dr. Archuleta's research interests and therapy work include integrating intrapersonal and relational factors with personal finance behaviors and decision-making processes. She is a co-founding board member and current President of the Financial Therapy Association, Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Financial Therapy, and editorial board member for Journal of Financial Planning. Along with co-authoring over 35 peer-reviewed publications, she has co-edited two books, Financial Planning and Scales and Financial Therapy: Theory, Theory, Research, and Practice, and has been featured in media outlets such as Glamour, Parade, Korean Journal of Financial Planning, NPR Marketplace, Chicago Tribune, NY Daily News, CBS Money Watch, Kansas City Star, Investment News, forbes.com, onenewsnow.com, and usatoday.net. Dr. Archuleta received a baccalaureate degree from Oklahoma State University and graduate degrees from Kansas State University in Marriage and Family Therapy with an emphasis in personal financial planning. Dr. Archuleta is a recipient of the College of Human Ecology Myers-Alford Outstanding Teaching Award at Kansas State University and is also a Oklahoma State University College of Human Sciences Distinguished Alumna Award.