

MARY G. GRESHAM, Ph.D.

Clinical Psychologist
2801 Buford Highway, Suite 260, Atlanta, Georgia 30329
404/320-6510
www.doctorgresham.com
mg@doctorgresham.com

EDUCATION

1988	Licensed to practice psychology in the State of Georgia
1987	Ph.D., Clinical Psychology, Georgia State University
1974	M.S., Clinical Psychology, Emory University
1974	Teaching Certificate in Art, Georgia State University.
1969	B.S. in Psychology, Tulane University
1965	H.S. Diploma, Westminster Schools

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

1987- Present	Private Practice of Psychology Individual, couples and group psychotherapy; vocational and intellectual assessment of adults. Specialty areas include psychotherapy of adult attention deficit and learning disorders, adult children of alcoholics, divorce, parenting, career transitions and money management. Supervision of therapists in private practice. Coaching for small businesses. Consultant to businesses on stress management, group dynamics and change management
1995	Associate Professor of Psychology, Agnes Scott College Part-time position teaching The Psychology of Women .
1994-1997 1991-2007	Book Review Editor The Georgia Psychologist Instructor, Evening at Emory Instructor, in community education programs for adults. Teaching divorce adjustment and coping with single life. Teaching couples communication. about finances.
1989-1993	Consultant, Georgia Mental Health Institute Consultant to inpatient unit on diagnostic, assessment, and treatment issues.
1992	Chairman, Post-doctoral Institute and Conference, Georgia Psychological Association Organized and presented a training conference for licensed psychologists in Georgia.
1988-1989	Psychologist, Georgia Regional Hospital Psychologist for inpatient unit.
1986-1987	Instructor, Georgia State University Instructor for developmental studies on personal and academic development.
1982-1983	Clinical Psychology Intern, Counseling Center, Georgia State University Individual, couples and group psychotherapy. Vocational testing. Supervision of practicum students.
1979-1981	Practicum in Psychology, Psychotherapy and Behavior Therapy Clinic, Georgia State University.

Vita
1978

Mary G. Gresham

page one

Graduate Teaching Assistant, Psychology Department, Georgia State University

Teaching assistant for graduate level introductory statistics class,

1974-1978

Coordinator, Adolescent Services, North DeKalb Mental Health Center

Administrator of outpatient mental health services for teenagers and their families.

Provision of therapeutic services to adolescents and management of program.

RESEARCH

1968

The Relationship between Augmentation and Reduction of Stimuli and Pain Thresholds. Undergraduate research project, Tulane University.

1974

The Relationship between Active and Passive Art Experiences and Measures of Mood. Master's thesis, Emory University.

1987

Stress, Androgyny, and Employment in Mothers of Preschool Children. Doctoral dissertation, Georgia State University.

WORKSHOPS PRESENTED

A Model of Supervision for Women Psychologists, American Psychological Assn

The Emerging Field of Financial Psychology, Fast Forward Conference, Division 42, American Psych Assn

Working with Financial Issues in Therapy, Anxiety and Stress Management Institute

Ethical Marketing, Georgia Psychological Association

After Retirement, Then What: The Hard Conversations, FPA Retreat, Palm Springs

Communicating in the New Normal, NAPFA, Las Vegas.

Building a Practice without Insurance, Georgia Psychological Association Annual Meeting

The Money Levels Model: A Tool for Financial Health, Financial Therapy Association, Athens, Georgia

Healing Money Issues, Anxiety and Stress Management Institute, Marietta, GA

Managing Stress, WEG Electric, Atlanta, GA.

Communication Skills for Financial Planners, NAPFA Study Group, Atlanta, GA and NAPFA, Baltimore, Md

The Emotional Side of Investing, Morgan Stanley, Atlanta, GA

Women and Money, Division of Women Psychologists, Georgia Psychological Association.

Managing Stress and Money Anxiety, Georgia Home builders Association, Atlanta, Georgia

The Emotional Aspects of Money, UBS Family Forum, Atlanta, Georgia

The Psychology of Money, Compass Financial, Atlanta, Georgia

Fees in Psychotherapy: Ethics and Issues, Georgia Psychological Association, Atlanta, Georgia

PUBLICATIONS

Gresham, Mary G. (2012). The accidental career counselor. Independent Practitioner, 32, 55-57.

Gresham, Mary G. (2010). Vocational counseling. In S. Walfish (Ed.), Earning a Living Outside of Managed Mental Health Care, Wash D.C.: American Psychological Association.

Gresham, Mary G. (2009). Ethics and Fees in Practice. Independent Practitioner, 29, 100- 101.

PROFESSIONAL AFFILIATIONS

Georgia Psychological Association

Financial Therapy Association

Purposeful Planning Institute

National Association of Personal Financial Advisors

American Psychological Association

Nazrudin Project

Financial Planning Association

HONORS AND AWARDS

Chi Beta Honorary Society

Dean's List

Scholarship Award, Kappa Kappa Gamma.

Tulane Scholar

VOLUNTEER ACTIVITIES

Public Education, Georgia Psychological Association

Continuing Education, Georgia Psychological Association